General remarks.

"This school has been thoroughly well taught during the past year - Even the Infants answer with intelligence, and the other children appear not only to have learned the facts of Holy Scripture, but to have grasped something of their meaning. The Catechism and selected portions of the Prayer Book are well known and understood and the tone of the school is reverent throughout. The written work in the highest group is especially good." Classed Very Good.

The work of religious instruction in this school is carried on with much devotion & with very good results, although the mistress has only been in charge for a few months.

The highest class showed very satisfactory knowledge, but the repetition wants some attention, especially as to the private prayers.

In the 2nd & 3rd Standards I found the repetition excellent but the answering was somewhat slow, and the meaning of the catechism was not always understood.

Stan: I & the elder infants seemed interested in their work, and answered brightly; but the Creed & Lord's Prayer were not perfectly known by all.

Classed Very Good.

This is a very well-ordered school, and the children have been successfully trained, and very earnestly and diligently taught.

A large amount of work had been prepared, and though in the head group the answering was not sufficiently general, and an occasional want of detail was noticeable in Standards I & II the various classes passed a highly creditable examination, and several of the elder children have a valuable knowledge, and the work of the Infants' group is particularly pleasing

"There seems no reason why this little school should be refused the highest classification - especially taking into consideration the drawbacks of recent illness and bad weather.

The tone is admirable - the children were reverent and attentive throughout and every subject taken up had been well & intelligently taught.

There was a weakness in some of the Bible knowledge - but on the other hand the catechism was thoroughly well-known as also the Prayer Book in the middle group."

Copy of the Summary of H. M. Inspector's
Report on the School

"The order is very good and the elementary subjects, History, Needlework and Recitation have been, on the whole, very well taught in the different standards; but the Infants' class - comprising about half the school - is backward and shows little evidence of intelligent teaching. The Infants' accommodation would be greatly improved by the introduction of a gallery with desks adjusted to it."

I am to invite the attention of the Managers to the concluding paragraphs of Articles 85(b) and 101(b)i of the Code.

My Lords have sanctioned the omission of the annual inspection of this School due in July 1897.

Classed "Excellent"

Although the marks awarded to the individual subjects in the different groups are not so high as usual, there has been no diminution in the interest shewn in Religious Education.

The best possible has been done in the face of sickness amongst Teachers & Scholars - The classification of "Excellent" is therefore again without hesitation awarded.
Hon: Mention L. Langdon, E. Andrew, G. Peters, W. Andrew, A. Peters, W. Gleave, M. Towillis.
